NOTICE.

In addition to our Band Instrument Catalogue, we have published

HINTS TO AMATEUR BANDS & GUIDE FOR YOUNG MUSICIANS,

BY

T. H. ROLLINSON.

It treats upon the organization of bands upon a permanent basis. Proper instrumentation, duties of leader and members. Formation and duties of bands on parade, with diagrams. How to produce tone upon brass instruments. Proper system of rehearsal, &c., &c. We have also just published a collection of

in 4 Series, by the same popular writer, embracing the first principles of Band practice, and also proper studies on practical points for advanced bands.

These studies are progressive, instructive and indispensable, and should be added to the library of every amateur Band.

NOTE.—THE PATENT SILVER BELL BANJOS, are the fruit of a life-long study and experiment, by the only real inventor among the many self called banjo inventors of the present age. Mr. Henry C. Dobson stands alone at the top of the list of professional artist banjo makers of America, being a truly artistic performer, and a teacher of great ability for thirty years. It is only necessary to say for his banjos, that they are made by artistic workmen, under the supervision of this great inventor at his place of business in New York.

A detailed black and white illustration of a trumpet, shown from a side profile. The instrument features a long, slender body with a flared bell at the right end and a small, circular mouthpiece at the left end. The bell has a series of vertical lines indicating its flared shape. The body is decorated with a series of horizontal lines, suggesting a textured or polished surface. The illustration is set against a plain white background.

N. B. — Tilton Guitars with ebony or ivory pegs, instead of patent machine heads, furnished at short notice.

THE TILTON GUITAR is made of the best seasoned stock, rosewood, elegantly finished, and is ornamental as well as useful. There is a sounding post running through the body, giving great strength to the instrument, and making the tone very full and sweet.

THE STRINGS are fastened to a metallic tail-piece, and the danger of having the bridge pulled off, so common with the old style guitars, is avoided; it also leaves the sounding-board free from the usual strain of the strings, and removes all impediments to the fullest vibration.
